A Lazy Liver

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as savage thing to beat a weary or stars in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to hash it with steen frastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with over work. Start with the stomach and alled organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble" by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It re-steres the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-mak-ing giands, cleanses the system from polsonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the defection of other organs.

SOUTHERN BAILWAY EARNINGS The income account of the Southern Railway Company for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1907, was issued yesterday, and with it the remarks of President Finley, which will be a part of the full pamphlet report. The statement shows an increase of a little over $3,000,-000 in gross carnings for the year and a decrease of nearly $2,000,000 in net, resulting from the heavy increase in operating expenses. President Finley says of the causes for the increase operating expenses:

"The conditions of operation during the last year have been extraordinary The investment of new capital in the construction of double track, additional vards and new lines has increased the fixed charge upon the revenues of the company without securing for the moment an immediate corresponding benefit, a relief which can come only with the completion of the new work. more apparent every day that this benemore than offset such increased fixed charge when the new facilities are put in operation, as they will be largely

during the current year.
'Great as are the burdens upon the operation of a railroad today by reason of the incressed cost of materials of all classes and the unabating expectations of labor, on the one hand, and legislative reduction of revenue and increased taxes, on the other hand, the crying need of the railroads of the South is more track, more equipment, more terminal facilities. With the strategic position and established relations which the Southern Railway Company now has, there would be no stiat in the amount of traffic it could obtain and profitably handle if it had the facilities necessary to afford to those who offer-traffic the service they demand.

"During the last winter there were serious congestions of freights on the lines of this company, which were due, almost without exception, to the failure of the plant to respond to demands which were made upon it beyond its capacity. "Apart from congestion of traffic, the expenses of operation, of which mention has been made, have been extraordinary.'

President Finley also refers at some length to the growth of diversified industry in the South, particularly along the lines of the Southern Railway system. The South, he points out, "now melts more than one-half the pig iron and basis for the munifacture of commercial fortilizer on such a scale as to make the South independent of outside sources of supply and to add greatly to her agricultural productiveness. The manufacture of furniture has grown to such proportions as are not exceeded in any other like section of the country yet, without decrease in the volume of lumber sent from the South to other markets of this country and abroad. stricted transportation facilities." Concerning the relations of the Southern Railway Company with the public Mr. Finley says: "In all the dealings of the company with the public it is the purpose of the management to cultivate a spirit of co-operation, to deal justly with all the patrons of the company on the basis of sound business and economic principles, and to this end particularly pecial efforts have been made to bring about courteous and considerate treatment by all employes of every person transacting business with the company. These endeavors have not been fruitless."

That the South is not hostile to railroads is one of the declarations appearing in President W. W. Finley's state-ing in President W. W. Finley's state-ment. In fact, President Finley says there is a growing feeling among ship-pers and travelers in that part of the country in favor of a reasonable treat-ment of railroad enterprise. The statement then cites as an indication of the rapid industrial expansion of the South that last year no fewer than 860 new plants of various sorts were installed along the Southern Railway's lines, and that the capacity of many older plants am enlarged. Mis Dear Old Mother,

"My dear old mother, who is now eighty three years old, thrives on Electric Bittera," writes W. B. Brunsen, of Dublin, Ga. "She has taken them for about two years and enjoys an excellent appetite, feels strong and sleeps well." That's the way Electric Bittera affect the sged, and the same happy results follow in all cases of female weakness and general debility. Weak, puny children too, are greatly strengthened by them. BOY KILLS HIS MOTHER.

George Smiley, aged 17 years, shot and killed his mother, Mrs. Lizzie Schol fer, aged 42 years, in their home in Kansas City, Mo., yesterday. In a statement to the police Smiley said he shot his mother in defending her against a burglar. He is being held pending investigation.

Mrs. Scholfer had been separated from her second husband, and the boy and his mother lived alone in the southeastern part of the city. After the shooting Smiley gave the slarm to the neighbors, and although search was made for the burglar promp'ly no trace of him could be found. The boy, taken to the station and questioned, told a dramatic story of bow he had killed his mother in trying to defend her. He said he had been awakened by screams of his mother, who told him there was a burglar in the the man and urged Smiley to get his shotgun. A moment later the burglar freed himself and was making an attempt to escape when Mrs. Scholfer ordered Smiley to shoot. As Smiley raised his gun, a single-barreled affair, and fired, the burglar, he says analysis of the says of and fired, the burglar, he says, pushed the woman in front of him. She received the full effect of the discharge, dying within a few moments. The burglar, he added, escaped, leaving no clue.
